

An educated public is essential for a functional democracy. When any one person or group controls the source of current information for one area that person or group has undue influence.

I strongly oppose relaxing any rules regarding cross ownership and I strongly recommend that the FCC encourage diversity in the communication industry.